Dear Sir

Providence Oct 25th 1778

Honor'd by your indulgence when at Boston, I persue the freedom of write ing you again; my last was of the 21st Inst. and at that time I was in great expectation of seeing you again shortly: but a Letter from General Greene dated the 20th requires my joining him at Camp as soon as possible. I am not a little mortify'd after the happy prospect I had reason to anticipate, and ex pect, to find my hopes blasted by an imme diate call to business and instead of the plea sing idea of visiting my Friends at Boston and the good company of Mrs Greene, to think of a very long journey without Company is intolerable: there is however a hope left that Mrs Greenes request in a letter gone on some days ago will not be deny'd, in that case I shall be happy.

The General says in his Letter that every thing indicates an evacuation of New York.

With my kindest regards to Mrs Cushing and Polly, be pleas'd to except my warmest wishes, and be assured I am respectfully your

Most Ob't Hble Serv't

William Hodges

P. S. Should I go on to the Westward, you may expect to be troubled with a long Epistle one in a while.
